Audience Poll

Too often, SEL is thought of as “add-on” to the school day
instead of embedded into academic learning.

How do you integrate SEL
into your school or classroom?

Our 6th grade classes have been describing how a particular story's or drama's plot unfolds in a series of episodes as well as how the characters respond or change as the plot moves toward a resolution. As students analyze characters response to changes in their lives they are being asked to attach emogers to feelings characters experience as they go through these changes in the text. Our students are being challenged to think about emogers that help them as well as how those same emogers may help others, both in real life and in fictional text.
